A. McG. BEEDE ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

FORT YATES, N. D. June 18, 1930

Proffessor W.S?Campbell:

I think the whiteman, White Clay, is Alec Faribeau

who was a Santee on the Rolls, had a little Indian blood, spoke western Sioux well, was McL's confidential adviser for many years, clerked in the Wickam (now Hokan) storeat one time. He was about the same as a white man. McL should have given him a good chapter in his book. He could have turned many a corner with a tip-over without Alec. Such important men are often deleted, lest it might become too evident where true merit belongs. Even Sir Walter Scott hides his sources in this way-and said openly that he did it. Alec knew the inside of everything, offices and all. He died a few years ago

Sincerely A.McG. Beede
