

January 13, 1929.

In re: Library.

Mr. C. J. Rhoads,
Commissioner,
Office of Indian Affairs,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Owing to unforeseen circumstances I am compelled to postpone my visit to Washington during the week following January 18 and so will be unable at that time to take advantage of your kind offer to examine certain records in your office relating to Sitting Bull. I greatly appreciate your kindness in this matter and hope to be in Washington sometime in the Spring at which time I trust I shall see you.

Yours very cordially,

W. S. CAMPBELL.