Mr. W. S. Campbell,
American Express Company,
Nice (A.M.) France

Dear Mr. Campbell:

Your letter addressed to Mr. Fox arrived a few days ago. Mr. Fox is at Des Moines, Iowa, at the present time where his wife is in a hospital, having undergone a serious operation.

The title of the book by Mrs. Fanny Kelly is "Narrative of my Captivity among the Sioux Indians" and was published by the Mutual Publishing Company at Hartford, Conn., in 1872. The name of the Quaker City Publishing House, Philadelphia, Pa., also appears on the title page.

I am sure that Mr. Fox will appreciate it very much if you decide to place the material which you have found on Sitting Bull in this department.

Sincerely yours,

Opal Calhoon
