Tulsa, Okla.

Dear sir - your picture in the Tulsa World of March 14th was called to my attention and I learned from that paper that you were to be in the Brown-Dunkin Store tomorrow afternoon Friday, to deliver a lecture, and I take this means of thanking you for having written the book Setting Bull, for myself, my wife, our children and grandchildren. To show you the interest I have in this matter I have to state that I am a part-Sioux Indian. that I was born in Dakota Terr. in 1862, that my mother was part-Sioux, that my father was a white man, that in early childhood I was taken to the Osage Catholic Mission in Neesho Co. Kansas, which place is now known as St. Paul, Kansas. That I was adopted by Samuel Bevenue an Osage, that I was afterward adopted by the Osage tribe of Indians, that I was allotted and carried on the Osage annuity rolls, that I came here to the Osage Indian
