

March 21, 1934.

Mr. John F. Palmer,
542 North Tinker Avenue,
Pawhuska, Oklahoma.

Dear Mr. Palmer:

I was very happy to get your kind letter sent to me at Tulsa. Now that I am home again, I shall answer it right away. Thanks very much for your praise of my book SITTING BULL. I tried to tell the truth, and do a great man justice. It makes me glad to think that you, who know the truth, approve what I have written.

I have just published another book about the Sioux. It is the story of their wars, told in a biography of Chief White Bull, nephew of Sitting Bull. He is still living, and has given me his story. I call the book WARPATH. I hope you like it, also.

I was glad to hear from you. I remember talking with you years ago in your office in Pawhuska. I was introduced to you then as W.S.Campbell. That is my legal name, I took it from my step-father. But I write under my own father's name- Stanley Vestal.

Yours cordially,

W.S.CAMPBELL