

71

2/1/79

The fact now known that Sitting Bull's band of 5,000 lodges has crossed the line and is now on American soil creates a sensation in the far Northwest. It seems the extreme cold weather and the scarcity of game in British America drove the hostile band to the southward. While they claim to come with the most peaceable intentions, the well known character of the leader and the strength of the force cause much uneasiness on the border.

718