

Fidelity has been the signal for neglect, for injustice, for the decree of starvation; just as cruelty and treachery have won these. In the light of the heroic devotion of these Indians who have helped to remove the most dangerous of their race, laying down their lives with single-hearted and ready devotion, the further delay of the Sisseton and Wahpeton bill will be an indelible disgrace and the foulest of crimes./