

body. Then followed the grisly job of burying the slain.

Sergeant Windolph served in the army until 1883 and saw much other Indian fighting, including the Nez Perce campaign. He has lived in Lead ever since. He plans to return to his home Saturday.