COLONEL WM. H. C. BOWEN
 U. S. ARMY RETIRED
 1020 FAIRVIEW BLVD.
 PORTLAND, OREGON

20 Sept. 1929

My dear Capt. Campbell
 or is it "Professor," or "Doctor":

(first, note changed address. I am surprised at my old friend whom I have known for 50 years, more or less) You ask regarding Sitting Bull. I'll tell you all I know, and help you all I can.

I first saw Sitting Bull in October 1876 at a place on the North bank (or west bank, for the general trend of the Yellowstone is towards the North.) called "Cedar Creek". I was then a 2^d Lieut. 5th Inf., under the celebrated Soldier
 and Indian Fighter, Nelson A. Miles, then Colonel 5th Infantry, afterwards, Brig. Gen.; Major Gen.;
 and Lieut. Gen. See 'Serving the Republic' pp. 139-178)
 (and Personal Recollections, Gen. N. A. Miles, Chapter XVII and on) This last ^{mentioned} book is out of print
 I paid $6.00 for my copy and was over a year
 in getting it.

But to Sitting Bull, who was a "Medecine
