

Sitting Bull foresaw he was going to be killed some day. He, at one time, saw a man (an eagle) on the top of a peak near Sylvan Lake in the Black Hills singing the following song - an eagle song.

Father (the Great Spirit) has placed me in charge of these (the Creation).

A hard time I'm having.

From that time on to this day the eagle is still the supreme - its likeness is placed on silver & gold dollars.

Sitting Bull ceased to be chief. The Eagle is still the chief.
