

Moorehead - pp.193-97 cont'd.

withhold permission from those who desired to talk. Most white men's councils are foreign to Indian methods of council. "here the white man sought to make of the council a one-sided affair, friction was quite certain to develop.