

the permission of the government to take the Indians from the reservation, and I pay them good salaries. They send the money home to their people. A government agent travels with us to act as a sort of guardian of the country's wards."