My dear Sir:

Having been born on The Boyeman Trail, near its conjunction with Tongue River, and having cut my eye teeth on C. J. Brady, I am reading your recent publication on The Plains Indian after 1851 with a great deal of interest. I find it easy and enjoyable to read, as were other Vestal books that I have enjoyed. It has always seemed to me that a little study of the history of white man - red man relationships ought to be required reading; then we might not be so all-fired smug about the accident of
