

feet of Plato and Diogenes. He was not poisoned and thrown on alien soil for burial when he counselled peace for safety's sake, but he drank of the hemlock of defeat, and was killed in a brawl by a policeman.