He was paid $60⁰⁰ by Ny Common Council
for that portrait of Dwc.

Painted Red Jacket 1826 + people disliked it - too realistic - not of any 'school'

1828 Clara B. Gregory

late in 1829 - he ^{and she} went to Richmond, Va to paint ~~the~~ "A delegation" the 115 delegates assembled to form a new State Constitution.

(He & she had already visited the ^{miserable} Indians
in the poverty stricken reserves of the Oneida & Suscarora.)

at R, both Clara + he fell ill, "intermittent fever"
Dolly M. cared for .. as nurse.
back in Cathin's Dad's home to convalesce.

He had seen "A Delegation of some ten or 15
noble + dignified looking Indians, from the wilds of
'Far West' suddenly arrived in the city, arrayed & equipped in all their classic beauty, - with shield +
helmet - with tunic + manteau - tinted + tasseled off, exactly for the painters palette. (See #31)
