American Indian Exposition, Anadarko, Oklahoma

Dear Friend:

Once again the Indians of Oklahoma and the Southwest gather for their annual Exposition, easily one of the most colorful events in all America.

Coming this year as it does in the midst of a war for our national safety, the Exposition serves as reminder that the American Indian represents the finest in American tradition—tradition for which we fight. Through all the history of America, the Indian has shown his courage, his spirit, his deep love of freedom.

Through you, I send to Oklahoma Indians my warm regards and the assurance of my continued friendship. I am proud to be one of your representatives in the national Congress.

Sincerely yours,

JOSH LEE, U. S. Senator.
