

two or three of these highly colored Indian robes, and it is safe to say that within the next few years more of these robes will be seen in the sleighing season than the costlier furs. For throws on veranda chairs and settees, they are without a rival, as aside from lending color and life to the place, they make an excellent wrap for enjoying the veranda in the cool of the evening.

Robes in College Colors

About two years ago the Mills tried, as an experiment, the making of Indian robes in college colors.

The Pendletons were popular from the start and before very long, hundreds had been shipped to the various colleges.

The same designs are used, the only difference from the regular Indian robe being that college colors are used in weaving the robes.

These robes are used by the students in decorating their dens, rooms, cozy corners, for athletic robes, lap robes and wherever there is a chance to show college colors.

Thrown over the bed for an extra covering, they lend an air of loyalty and patriotism to the apartment, at the same time being of use.

We will ship robes in any college or school colors.
