Dear Mr. Russell:

Your letter of September 24 has followed me all around the country on my research trip and finally caught up with me here. Believe me, I am very grateful to you for your suggestions and criticisms of my article, "The Duel with Yellow Hand." I am particularly grateful in that one of these days I shall write a book covering these events.

However, I should think twice about believing anything General King said. If ever there was a born renancer, he was that man.

Cordially yours,

W. S. CAMPBELL
