Dear Mrs. Pendell:

Gaston Litton dropped in this morning and was good enough to tell me of your kind suggestion that I look into Captain Palmer's account of the Powder River Expedition. You have put your finger on just the sort of color I need. I find that the book is available here, and therefore I will not need to have it microfilmed.

I am particularly pleased about the "Medicine Wolf" as I have quite a bit of fresh information on that point from the Sioux. It is noteworthy that all the troubles that befell that expedition began immediately after the Medicine Wolf howled.

I shall probably be pestering you frequently from now on, as I am now working mostly on my book on the Indian Wars and Treaties.

Cordially yours,

W. S. Campbell
