Dear Mrs. Pendell:

I would like to have information as to the casualties when General Custer attacked the Cheyenne village in the winter of 1868, at the fight called the Battle of the Washita. Could you send me a list of the names and ranks of the wounded and killed?

Custer tells a story about a wounded "bugler boy." Someone has thrown doubt on this story, and I thought I would like to check.

With kindest regards,

Yours cordially,

W. S. Campbell
