

neither the ability, nor the funds to adequately catalogue them, for no two are exactly alike, nor will you ever find the genuine so. Each woman has her own designs, and as each blanket was the record of some incident in her life, or the life of her people, she naturally made each one different. For this reason, each rug, or blanket as it was originally used, has its own peculiar designs and attractions. You may find two that are nearly alike, but upon examination, some little difference in detail will be found. We have these goods from the smaller sizes at $10.00 and $12.00 each, to the larger and finest makes at much more, and will be pleased to have you write us for detailed descriptions and prices.

BEADS

To those who are doing the woven work and other beadwork, we wish to say, we can furnish the regular Indian beads in any of the colors usually required, at 15c the bunch. The reds are 20c and 25c per bunch.

In conclusion, we wish to request that you write us freely about anything you desire in the Indian line, and if we cannot secure it for you, we will refer you to those who can.

Soliciting your valued orders, we remain,

Sincerely yours,

THE MOHONK LODGE.
