

ignominious flight, and is now under arrest for cowardice. As soon as Captain Davis and his men heard the firing from the brush they turned their attention that way, and the ambush hero soon went to meet his partner, whose body now lay helpless in the tent. The man in the tent was no other than the well known sanger, Johnny Jefferson. The other seemed to be a stranger. Our correspondent from Supply have that "Skip Charter" was one of the killed, but others say not--time will tell. At any rate four deserving victims have turned their toes to the daises. Such is life on the plains.
