

Lieut. Gardner, of Fort Dodge, with an escort of a corporal and seven men, from that Post, arrived at this Post this (Monday) evening. They were out after Dutch Henry (supposed) and the stolen mules. They went up the north side of the Arkansas river, crossed near Cimmaron, then up to Crooked Creek, across to the Beaver, whichstream they followed down to this Post. They report having seen nothing of "Dutch Henry" or the mules.