United States Army
Commands (Army Posts)

FORT SUPPLY, OKLA. (1868-95)

This post was established as Camp Supply on November 8, 1868, pursuant to General Field Orders, No. 10, Headquarters District of the Upper Arkansas, dated the same day. It was first garrisoned by Companies B, E, and F, 3rd U. S. Infantry, and Company G, 38th U. S. Infantry, under the command of Captain John H. Page. Originally intended as a supply camp for one of Custer's expeditions against the Indians, it soon gained a permanent status. The name, Camp Supply, was changed to Fort Supply, in accordance with General Orders No. 9, Headquarters Division of Missouri, December 30, 1878. Troops were withdrawn on October 6, 1894, in compliance with General Orders No. 45, Headquarters of the Army, September 15, 1894. A detachment remained at the fort until February 25, 1895, when the post was turned over to the Interior Department.
