

Can a husband deed a homestead to his wife and give a good and merchantable title?—T. C.

There is considerable question as to whether or not a husband can deed a homestead to his wife, in view of the fact that she herself has an interest therein. The very best way to handle a matter of that sort is for the husband and wife to deed the homestead to a third party, and the third party, in turn, to deed it to the wife. That leaves absolutely no question as to whether or not the title is merchantable.
