HELD NOTABLE REUNION

Alumni of Old Cherokee Seminaries Attend Reception to Class of '80. Special to The World. TAHLEQUAH, May 30.—A reception to former students of both the old Cherokee national seminaries was given at the home of Mrs. H. L. Fite on the occasion of the reunion of the class of 1880, female seminary. An interesting address was given by Mrs. J. T. McSpadden of Chelsea. As Miss Nellie Rogers she was graduated in the class of forty-five years ago with Misses Nannie Daniels, Jeannette Starr, Margaret H. Stapler, Lillie Maxfield, Caroline V. Armstrong and Sarah Ross. Mrs. McSpadden, Mrs. Fite, Mrs. F. M. Overless and Mrs. Hillingslea are the survivors. A notable guest at the reception was Isabel Cobb, M. D., the first, and so far as known, the only woman of Cherokee blood to become a physician. Miss Cobb was graduated from the Cherokee seminary in 1879, and in 1881 from the Glendale, Ohio, college. In 1882 she completed a course at the Woman's Medical college of Pennsylvania.

That class that was original natives, are all passed & gone now. Those remaining so-called class are those only that herd with the Wallton herd - of the North Dakota stripe -

Cherokians of any distinction at all have no bid chance to a noble & grand nation of people who were too highly elevated to survive present occupants of their once loved home & fireside.
