

(5) And the fulness thereof buy today pay tomorrow or let the other fellow pay or the payee go without. What's lost to us see them to that We are after the goods.

Of all the enemies that ever threw themselves ~~across~~ across the pathway of a city's progress, the man who ruthlessly spends its revenues or adds to its debts unnecessarily is its worst and deadliest and who most effectually crushes out its life.

A hospital of all forms of extravagance with its countless demands and necessities would bear most grievously upon the people.
