Dear Ila Mae:

I spoke with either you or your sister about my desire to treat my mother to a trip to Ireland while she is in good enough health to enjoy it. There was an indication of interest on your part in joining my mother on this trip. I am tentatively planning the trip for early 1994. Please let me know if you have any interest in accompanying her and how we should proceed from this point forward.

I can either get a travel agent to look at different directed tour options or we can plan it around a visit to a specific area you may want to visit for genealogical reasons. Anyway, please let me know of your interest, if you have any, in accompanying my mother on this trip.

Best wishes to Aunt Lillian and the rest of the family.

Sincerely,

Wilma P. Mankiller
