The Child Care Center is structured & designed for bringing out the creativity within, respect for self & others, staying busy, using time well, recycling & using natural resources, a way to respect all that is in little peoples world

This part of Alaska Tribal Appeals, Inc. is designed specifically for the child who has experienced domestic violence, sexual abuse & substance abuse within the family unit, to give life back to the child & help the child return to the family unit where & when it can be done. The parents of these children are going through their own counseling at the same time, the negative is not totally left out but presented in a manner that shows the trouble it creates in the unit.
