Dear Nita:

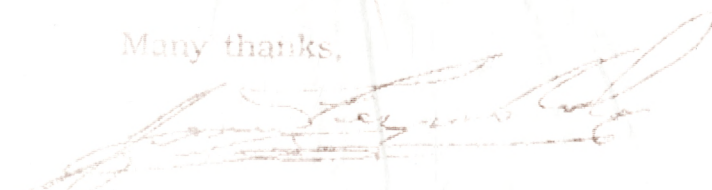

As Becky Adamson has discussed with Principal Chief Mankiller, we're submitting a brochure quote for approval.

Name, quote and title would appear as follows:

Wilma Mankiller
Principal Chief
Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma

"I've always believed that if our story is fully and fairly told, people will understand. First Nations is helping us tell our financial story -- a larger part of our story than many of us imagine. Proper use and management of the funds and resources we as Native Americans possess, along with access to more through fairness in lending and reservation development, means housing. It means education. It means economic development and social problem solving. It means investing in our people up front and early on and forever."

Many thanks,
