

Also, I have received requests from several American Indian organizations asking me to participate in local benefits. I have instructed my manager to consider these invitations whenever possible, as my touring schedule allows.

Most importantly of all, I need for you to know that I have the deepest respect for the spiritual and traditional values of all Native Americans. I hope that this is the beginning of a continuing relationship and I would like very much at some time to sit with you personally. In that regard, I extend an open invitation to be my personal guest at a scheduled appearance at your convenience. I would be honored for you to accept this invitation, of course at my expense. This would allow you to view my show firsthand and give me the opportunity to learn more about our mutual concerns.

Respectfully,

Tim McGraw
