

to the studious young man. His after life has demonstrated that he read, and remembered what he read. He is perhaps today the best postal Indian in the territory and a man of fine literary ability."