

The late adjustment at Muskogee has given great satisfaction at Washington and all over the United States, I trust that the agreement upon which we invoked the blessing of God will be observed in letter and spirit, and that peace and prosperity may abound in all the borders of the Creek Country. The approaching elections and the meeting of the Council will be very important events. If wisdom, patience, and the spirit of concession shall govern them the future will be bright.

I shall be glad to aid you at anytime my services may be useful to yourself or people.

With cordial greetings for Secy. Callahan and other friends
I am with very great respect.
