

STAR VINDICATOR

McAlester, Ind. Ter.
Sept. 15, 1877
Vol. 4, No. 31
G. McPherson, Editor

EDITORIAL ON TAXES IN THE CHOCTAW AND CHICKASAW NATIONS

The letter of Secretary Schurz to Commissioner Smith, which will be found on the first page of this week's paper, is the most important document ever issued from the Department. This permit tax, which has been such a drawback upon the improvement of the country, is now effectually and forever settled. Our people can now employ whom they please without any fear of their being troubled by the National authorities.

THE STAR has always contended that this was a privilege guaranteed the citizens of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations under the treaty, and it is gratifying to know that our views have at last been sustained by the highest authorities in the country; and the day is not far distant when our entire position on the Indian question will be adopted by the Government. Mark what we say! It is a long lane that has no turn, and the darkest night must sometime give way to a bright and glorious morning. Day dawns in the East, -- and the lowering clouds that have so long hung like a pall over us, binding us down to the dark ages of the past, will soon be lifted; and the new order of things, for which we have fought so hard and waited so long, will open upon us and bear us upward and onward to that "Higher Civilization" which we inscribed upon our banner when we first loosed our shallop from the shore and launched out upon the broad sea of journalism.

STAR VINDICATOR

McAlester, Ind. Ter.
Sept. 15, 1877
Vol. 4, No. 31
G. McPherson, Editor

EDITORIAL ON TAXES IN THE CHOCTAW AND CHICKASAW NATIONS

The letter of Secretary Schurz to Commissioner Smith, which will be found on the first page of this week's paper, is the most important document ever issued from the Department. This permit tax, which has been such a drawback upon the improvement of the country, is now effectually and forever settled. Our people can now employ whom they please without any fear of their being troubled by the National authorities.

THE STAR has always contended that this was a privilege guaranteed the citizens of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations under the treaty, and it is gratifying to know that our views have at last been sustained by the highest authorities in the country; and the day is not far distant when our entire position on the Indian question will be adopted by the Government. Mark what we say! It is a long lane that has no turn, and the darkest night must sometime give way to a bright and glorious morning. Day dawns in the East, -- and the lowering clouds that have so long hung like a pall over us, binding us down to the dark ages of the past, will soon be lifted; and the new order of things, for which we have fought so hard and waited so long, will open upon us and bear us upward and onward to that "Higher Civilization" which we inscribed upon our banner when we first loosed our shallop from the shore and launched out upon the broad sea of journalism.