EDITORIAL ON CHICKASAW AND CHOCTAWS

The governor of the Chickasaw Nation and the governor of the Choctaw Nation have been making joint announcements at intervals that they were going to issue deeds to allotments to the individual Indians without waiting for them to be approved by the department. Just why they continue to announce that they are going to do it and don't do it the Herald fails to understand, unless these announcements are in a way a sort of feeler to learn how the department is going to take the matter. --
