My dear Judge:

Now, doesn't that look good?

It will take you sometime to get used to being called "Judge", but from what I read in the paper which came yesterday you are going to be called "Judge" from now on.

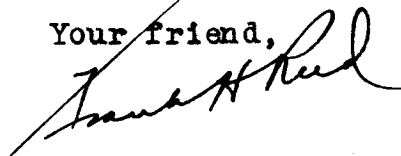

But really, Guy, I was taken completely by surprise, although glad to learn of your appointment, and I certainly wish you every success. It is a wonderful opportunity which I am sure you realize and I know you will make a record that will not only always be a credit to you but will be a wonderful gratification to your friends.

I greatly appreciate your kind letter acknowledging receipt of the book and I was very glad to send it to you.

We have all had a nice time down here but are looking forward quite anxiously to getting home in about two weeks.

With best wishes to you and yours,
I remain

Your friend,
