SYMPATHY CORDIALLY YOURS=

MRS W M VANDIVORT.

My dears:—

We all know words are fruitless in times like this—but I must tell you of our sincere sympathy— and even tho' kind and loving friends are doing all that is possible for you, only God can soothe your aching hearts.

Lovingly

Dear Anno -

In a letter from Sadie today was a clipping from D.C. paper telling of Guy's passing Just want to express to you and Maxine my very deep sympathy.
Have thought of you so many times since Sadie was out there a year ago, she is in D.C. now.
Again my sympathy & love

My Dear Mrs. Cutlip:-

I cannot tell you how sorry I am over the death of Guy, as I have always called and known him. I know the loss and sorrow to you and the community is heavy. If there is anything that I could do or say to comfort you and Maxine, I would be so glad to do so.

To you and Maxine, my wife and I extend our sincere sympathy and warmest friendship.

Very sincerely,
C. Dale Wolfe.

My dearest Mepine -

Once I was very sad. My friends were sweet to me. They wrote me letters <sup>full</sup> of kind words. But how weak and soundless were their words. I could not hear them, they were so flat and meaningless to me. I hated the world, I was even tempted to question God about for taking the one I loved best, who had been most faithful to me for so many years. But now I know. It seems, Mepine, Mama has spoken. She has explained the mystery of it all.

There are times, Mepine, when words fail to bring back the old smile. There are times when human sympathy fails to heal a broken heart. But I do know there never was nor is a wound so deep that God will not comfort you.

Imagine I know in part your mind and heart, and the pain you are asked to bear. I wish I could bear it for you, but I cannot. I would like so much to be with you at this time but I cannot.

May the blessings of God and the peace which he alone can give rest upon you and yours, is my prayer.

Truly yours,

Wilfred [Wright Wolgamot]

Dear Mrs. Cutlip -

I want you to know that I am thinking of you and Maxine with deepest sympathy, and your many friends
grieve with you over the passing on of Judge Cutlip. You cannot understand how, or why, he should have gone, when such men as he, are so needed here, but he has indeed left a rich heritage to you, his friends

and our common interests, in the high ideals he lived.

I shall hope to see you soon.

Sincerely your friend
Clarence Warren.

Dear Mrs. Curtis:

Just a simple message

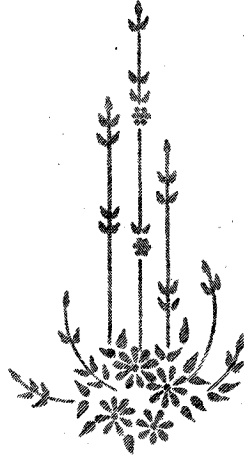

to bear an expression

of sincere sympathy

My thoughts are with you and my prayers too. May God comfort you and give your refuge in your sorrow.

From one who understands

Your friend, Edna Whitcraft

With heartfelt sympathy, I share Your sorrow and your loss,
May you be given added strength
To help you bear your cross!
