

people too--for flu or bad cold, something like that. And that's about all of the medicine that I know of. Maybe I'll find out something better--more later.

TREATMENTS FOR ANIMALS

And this about the horses, livestock what it is. Once in a great while, a horse lays down and stretch. Maybe he's got his face down on the ground and hind legs up. Standing with hind legs up, front legs down. Well, when a horse does like that he's wormy. Home made tobacco is good for that. Dry, you can crumble it up and put in the trough when you feed him. And mix it up stir it up good. Let the horse eat it. And soon the worms will go out. You get rid of worms like that. Then the horse will get well if it's a wormy horse. Sometimes there's a lot of things that make it sick--something else. And also a dog, a running-fit dog or falling-fit dog like that--if you got love for a dog, a love pet, well, you can dig you out a poke salad root, wash it up good, slice it up good and fry just like you do potatoes. Just like you fry Irish potatoes. And put a little salt in it. And you can feed a dog like that. And there is something that will cure a running fit, or a falling fit. I know, I had a dog like that one time. I sure did love that dog. It was a big old Airedale dog. And I sure did love that dog. He was good to children. He always watch children. He used to kill snakes or whatever comes along near the children. He always kill them. Or run the stock away if near the children. And he had a falling fit and running fit. And that's what I did. I went to dig some pole salad root, slice it up, wash it and fry in a hot greast, salt it and feed them. And that cured him. That dog I had, he was a pretty good pet of ours. But later that dog he had to be killed because he went mad. He had to be killed. I told the man just to go ahead and kill him. And I sure did hate to lose a good pet. That is about all this that I know to tell about this story. It is true this experience that I had myself.
