

we could use if possible. It's pretty hard to build it up.

(Well.)

Nobody has money anymore.

(Do you have a budget or anything like that?)

Huh?

(Do you have a budget or something you--a goal you are going to try to have to--)

In two years, we are going to have to have a dance. We want to meet our boys coming home and greet them. That's the thing we have to do. Then, we go visit all veteran hospitals.

(Could you describe one of those visits at the hospital?)

We have one of them. I have to call gift shop today. We can, each one of us, give gifts maybe two or three gifts because there aren't very many of us. And we put postal card in there from Mother. On Mother's Day we put a dime in there in case that they have to mail it off according to how much it is. Lot of the times, it raised they will have to take up dues down there. They got them all down there. They have a table all those gifts they just sit around, and beautiful gifts from Mother or sister, if they want to give it to them. And then Christmas we used to send--chapter used to send one dollar each member, so all of the members of the state--local, state--they all send in their coins and buy poinsetta's for the hospital for the patients Christmas time. But I understand that they wasn't going to do that and they used to want us to sell carnations on Mother's Day. But that got so we couldn't sell nothing. Everybody would buy it first, but when we first got it well, my goodness, this Mrs. (name not clear) carnations only if everybody wouldn't help, we wouldn't have gotten any help. (name not clear) sold all the carnations for us. But they aren't going to do
