

money never looks to see how much it is.)

No. No.

(It is not the amount but the spirit of the giving.)

The spirit. Yes. The Spirit, yes. The spirit, you know that Jesus has toward his fellowman. That's Arapaho.

STAR HAWKS AND THE TRAINING OF YOUNG MEN

In that connection, I want to say this. The star Hawkins or Hawks, we call ourselves, is when a young man is in his prime--he is active fisherman, expert horseback rider, expert hunter, expert--we know which way to provide wood and all that for his folks. That's when he is in his prime and he becomes a good warrior. He is active and quick and that's when he is in his prime of life. And all that time from the time he is a fox--when we say about 12 years old, we call 'em fox, Kid Fox. He is trained to mind and to obey just like the Boy Scouts. Then he grows up and he gets with fellows--older boys--then and they have a leader, he is called Elder. And he teaches 'em and corrects and he sponsors ways like going out at midnight to get wood or to go out 'bout six miles when it pitch dark or go out and get water. All those things, they practice, and they become and experienced and fearless. So, when they grow up, why then they pretty well organized individuals to do this part what is required by his tribe of him.

(That is almost like what they require today, except it is different kind of tribe they have to operate with isn't it?)

Yes. Yes. Oh, yes.

(They need the same kind of training to be strong and go out and do the things they need to do.)

Yeah. We have that training among the Cheyennes and Arapahoes and I am proud of it, too. Now I know I was trained--now in those days, when in summer had a big Indian doings, you know there's always big teepee had to go where the camp was. Nobody was detailed to do that or nobody was obligated to volunteer for that. But it was always my volunteer effort when the time comes to move