than the market's absorbing right now.

(Participant, man:) With that Lawton deal then you'll have more of it too.

Mr. Clement: That's right. But I liked to I would like for ya'll to give me as much flexibility as possible on brick cause I... (conversation).

(Mr.?) There's not over probably three different brick colors that you have and you make a selection then say you can have this or this or this. You can check with the brick companies and pretty well know about when you can get one of those three colors. And you might be order. ordering this brick and say that's one and you got two others. You could get some variety (not clear) and still meet your schedules I believe. If you allow them in and let them select them select anything that they might want in a certain price range. That the brick company has. You could be in real trouble.

Mr. Clement: Well and to keep your costs down you're, they're going to have to deliver this by truck load.

(Participant, man:) Decisions. Decisions. Among the participants.

Mr. Clement: What do you think about the possibility of this; getting the brick, paneling out of state?

(Comment, not clear.)

Mr. Clement: Not to exceed three colors. Given to the housing authority and the housing authority may be draft up a little form. And I want panel number 2 and I want wood paneling inside or I want sheet rock and paint. And then let the participant sign to this agreement. Ya'll file it. Thenif it don't turn out like he thought it was going to. Well, you signed off on this. We presented you the color uh. Bring a sheet of that paneling down. Or a 4 x 4 section of it. Set it up in the corner and run your participant through. Maybe have a participant meeting day. Settle all these things at once. Let 'em sign off on it, here it is. We've got all day, we don't want to rush you. Look as long as you want to but once you decide this is it because we can't be changing this thing.
