

miles from where your grandfather Sixkiller had his place. Old man Lacie had a place there.)

Yeah.

(Somewhere.)

His boy, oldest boy, lives there yet. His name is Walter Lacie.

(Yeah, Walter Lacie.)

He's my first cousin.

(Well.)

His mother was my aunt and step-mother too.

(My goodness.)

There's another one, Rufus. Rufus and Walter are the only two out of the Lacie family that's living.

(Yeah.)

(static) Place that the cemetery's on.

(Yeah.)

(static) They usually do.

FARMING - CATTLE RAISING

(Uh-huh, how long have you lived right down in England Hollow here, Mr. Grigsby?)

Let's see. Going on twenty-three years.

(Uh-huh.)

My baby daughter was born here. That's how old this house is. I never did finish building it. I didn't put the facing on the side of the window.

(Uh-huh.)

I put a door in, but I took it out.

(Well, it looks like good farming through here too. Yeah, all up through this hollow here, looks like good land, good farming.)
