

But the cemetery is still there.

(Hum.)

From the first President up to the present President.

(Uh-hum.)

(static) Didn't shoot any of them. And that's what started.

(Yeah.)

They used to have courthouse down there. Bynums lives there now, and they've got a great big barn. On the curve, right about where that barn is, that's where the courthouse used to be.

(Yeah.)

During before statehood.

WHITMIRE FAMILY

(And is that close to Barren?)

No, it's Whitmire.

(Oh, Whitmire.)

Uh-hum. It's only about two miles down there.

(Yeah.)

It's way up by what we call Towner's Creek.

(Yeah.)

From Proctor.

(Yeah. Now, that Whitmire family was a big family.)

Yeah.

(Scattered all around.)

We was some relation some way. And there's some lives south of Stilwell.

(Yeah.)

But he used to be Indian Agent way years ago.

(Uh-huh.)
