

Well, they used to.

(Yeah. That's where they'd also have singing there and the preaching too.)

You can ask (name not clear) if that's the old school house. He'll tell you more about it.

(Yeah.)

'Cause that's--they own that place.

(Where did you go to school, Tohnee?)

I went some at Chewey.

(You went at Chewey.)

And I went to Sequoyah and Watts. I didn't start till I was about ten or twelve years old. Been on crutches, you know, couldn't get around.

(Yeah.)

(tape skip)

CEMETERIES IN THE AREA - OTHER OLD TIMERS

(This cemetery here, the one they call Crittendon Cemetery, was that named after Nelson Crittendon? Was he the oldest one?)

I don't know what he is--who they take after..

(He seemed to be the only oldest one that they talk about. Now, what other graveyards were around here that you remember about?)

The one at Chewey.

(There's one at Chewey.)

Way down below Chewey Creek.

(What are some of the old Cherokee families that lived up in here besides the Crittendons and the Byrd, the Turtle. Who were some of the other ones? Was the Chewey's up in here too?)
