

out the lumber--take it to him. He was the one that did the cutting, according to specifications. And after he had everything out, why then they assist him in putting the casket together, by nailing it together and lining it. Which he did this work free of charge. There was no charge attached to this work, whatsoever.