

Handgame Song.

Round Dance.

War song (Gourds)

Talk by Dewey Daily:

We have another request here. It says an organization sometimes they have sort of an associate organization with them. This certain group why they call it the Auxiliary Folks have asked us to gather to ask these two boys. These two warriors. So that everyone appreciates for recognition of these boys. We are sure that they will remember this night. That they may go and they may be. The folks sure do appreciate it very much and we ask them to sing a song, these members of the auxiliary.

Game of drinking soft drinks made in Osage Company, Arkansas River.

We have some bottles of cold pop. We're going to have a contest.

Roland, line everybody up. (not clear)--you know on television they always advertise where the water is from. Well, you folks--pop stand (not clear)--water from the Arkansas River. (Next sentence not clear).

(Continued on T-450)