

Bob: I think so.

They disappeared, huh?

And Miller, John Miller. I was trying to find, I got Charley (word not clear) name in here somewhere. If I can find it. I can't hardly read this writing.

I think we're going to see Charley after awhile.

(So there's vital statistics in there, besides just the accounts?)

Yeah. And he's got in here whenever the creek, whenever it was the highest, you know. But I don't remember what year it was then. But he's got it in these books. And all of us kids is in here, our births you know. And so are Chief Olds', mother and dad--I mean his mother and his two aunts and his uncle. They're all in here. And oh, they's just about Pooler's and Dollar's. Now, my mother's name was Dollar before she was married to my dad. Her name was Dollar, she married a Dollar. And then she married --

HOW HALF SISTER GOT HER NAME

What was your half sisters name? (Bob)

Silver Dollar. (Laughter)

(That was her real name?)

That was her real name.

(Several people talking at once--talking about Silver.)

Well, how they gave her that name they had a payment down there at -- that's where the Mount Zion school used to be, Church is now. It used to be the Four Mile School. And they had a payment down there. And they payed them in silver. And mama went to the payment, you know to get her money. And she hadn't named--we always called her Luck for her nickname. My oldest brother nicknamed her that. And so they said, "Well, what you going to call her?" And mom said, "Well, we'll just call her, Silver Dollar."

(Laughter). And that's the way her name was spelled, Silver Dollar. (Laughter)

There was the two of them that was there. But I--there's Mary Pooler's
