

would you know. But they never allowed the boys and girls together only on a Wednesday evening and Saturday night. And then of course at Sunday school and then at Church. We used to have lot of fun when we did get together.

(Well this tape is going to be in the library at the University at Oklahoma. And it's just about finished so if you have anything you want to say you can put it here on the end for any of your grand kids or anybody that wants to come listen to it. Is there anything you want to say?)

Well, I guess I could say that I hope that my great grandson can listen to this some day too, when he has time. If he's back there and knows about it. Or any of the children. It don't make any difference, grand children or great grandchildren. If they're ever out that way. I'd like for them to stop and listen. I don't know what I said and I don't know whether I said it very good or not. (Laughter). But I've enjoyed it anyway and I'm proud of it. Like I said when I'm alone a lot of times I can think to say:

(Interruption.)

(It'll be there if you ever want to go listen to it.)

(End of Tape.)
