( What about that poker game that - - the Wycliff boys - ?)
Weil, he had a kinda hotel there. Joe I. Wilson had hotel of his own at that time there, before the old courthouse and he added to it. You know I told pou (bput him building a ware house, running down 100 feet, and a dock you know load and ufload - and he kept, I don't know how many wagons and teams he had of his own, but I have seen as many as thirty wagons loaded with goods coming in loaded with hogs and going out - a train carload at a time, and drive a carload of fat cattle long with ${ }^{1} \mathrm{em}$. He would buy hogs and cattle and feed 'en out there. And - -
(Where would they haul them to? $m$ )
Well, in shipping, they'd haul the stock to pryor, but they would haul these goods in from, I guess, from Southwest City, and Siloam Springs, Arkansas, and Pryor, ón the railroads, you know. These drumers, these traveling salesmen, would come through and they, - - of course so far from eaç point - Itis about a day's drive from anywhere in those days, you know, They could make a round trip to Pryor, you know, if they'd start early enough and drive teams hard enough. It was about a day's drive from any direction to this Saline court house. And they'd stay all night. And he always had a bundh theresand then what I was telling you about the Wycliff boys - - When they were - when they wanted them the worst and had so many United States marshals looking for 'om -
(They were outlaws at that time?)
Well, yeah. Cha lie was an outlaw and his borthers joined him there, $s 0$ they said. Nobody knew for sure that - - they never did see 'em. "Hed saveral fights' with iem but then - there was more than one man in the Wycliff bunch that doin the fightin'\% But they couldn!t see 'em eye to eye and they finally - Charlie finally He was the oldest ald the only one they had a warrant for, was killed. 'Nobody Hobody knows how he was killed. And when - After he was killed and they
