

have a lot of Indian kids get in trouble but, you know, they get into the wrong party at times. Well, just like anybody else, when kids gets into a different group of kids, well, they're going to do something. So they're pretty strict on the children. I think they tell them what they should do and what's best for them to do.

"If a child should disobey, like a father wanted his boy to go to church or something and the boy, maybe, didn't go; would he punish him in any way?"

Oh, yes. He probably would get a couple of good lickings.

Laughter. . . . .

"What do they use, a switch?"

I imagine they probably do, a belt, or anything that will hurt him. Make sure he won't forget.

"What if a girl should disobey, would she get punished?"

Oh, yes. It's same as the boy. Well, I say the biggest percentage of the kids they know they have to go. I mean there's no way out of it. Once they start going, they're going to go, without anybody telling them. Well, it's just like school, they know they have to go. They really don't have real big problems getting into something they will be sorry of and their parents really talk to them.

"They do?"

You know, they know that if they didn't listen and got into trouble, why it just takes a lot of money to get them out of it and they realize it. Nowadays it takes a lot of money to get out of anything. So we don't really have a lot of trouble at all. Well, you take here in town, it's very seldom you see one Indian kid get into something, well, that's the nature of a kid, you see. Any kid's going to get into trouble.

"Right."

So, I know, when I was just a kid, I used to get into somebody's watermelon patch.
